THE STAR BAR

Cocktails inspired by TV's most intoxicating characters

The perfect L.A. pastime: meeting for drinks and gazing at the Pacific Ocean. Just ask Tricia Carr, mixology director at Shutters on the Beach in Santa Monica, Calif., who serves spirits to celebrities and tourists alike. Inspired by Virginia "Ginny" Johnson (Lizzy Caplan) of Showtime's Masters of Sex, this cocktail reflects the very character of Ginny: It's feminine, refreshing, strong and a little twisted.

GINNY GIN-GIN

INGREDIENTS:

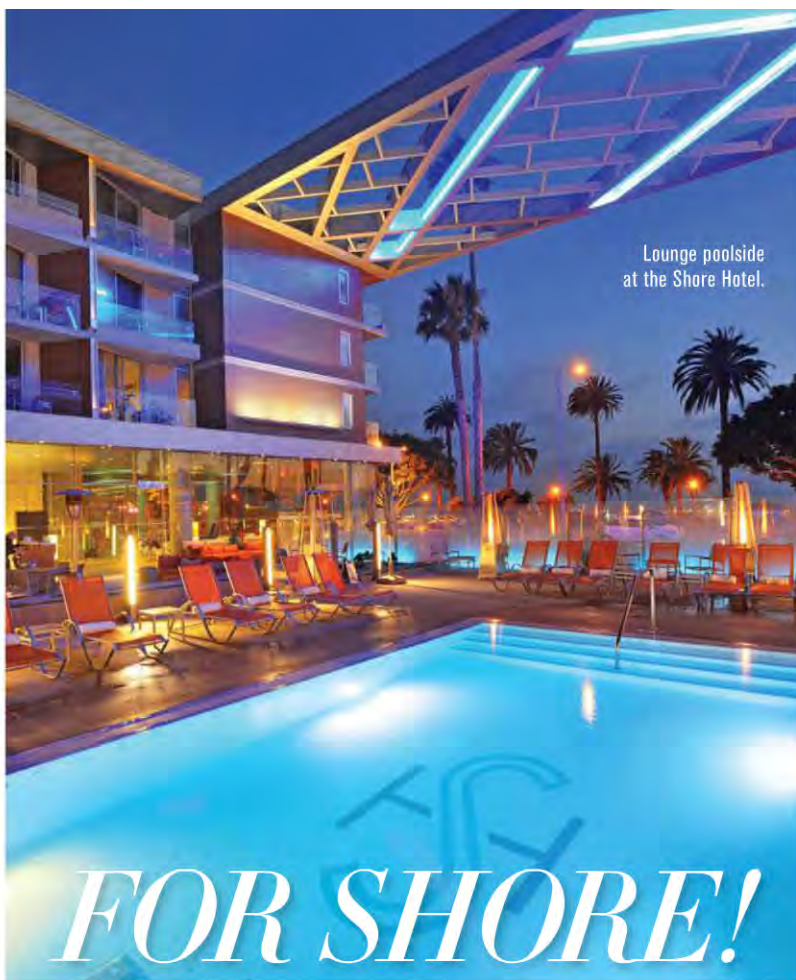

- 1½ ounces Plymouth gin
- ½ ounce Maurin dry vermouth
- 1 ounce fresh-squeezed ruby grapefruit
- ½ ounce simple syrup
- Splash of soda water, to taste
- 1 basil leaf

INSTRUCTIONS:

Shake first four ingredients, and strain over fresh ice into Collins glass. Add soda. Garnish with basil.

FOR SHORE!

Southern California has that cool/hip/happy vibe for a reason: You're surrounded by beautiful beaches, people and weather. Next time you visit Los Angeles, maximize your sunny exposure and stay beachfront. You can't go wrong with eco-chic Shore Hotel in Santa Monica, where everyone gets a room with a view (and your own private balcony!). The LEED Gold-certified boutique beauty features 164 stylishly appointed rooms in shades of turquoise and orange, outfitted with custom teak furniture and tasteful upcycled materials. The beach and Santa Monica Pier are right across the street, and there's a solar-heated pool for night swims. Check out on-site upscale Mexican eatery Blue Plate Taco, indulge in organic treatments at Alchemie Spa and cruise the oceanfront South Bay Bicycle Trail. Bike rentals at Blazing Saddles on the pier. shorehotel.com
